

The Race, Poverty and Media Justice Program for Students & Professionals at the POOR Magazine Campus.

Tuition for the Spring, Summer & Fall programs are $300-1200. Sliding Scale Payment* plans are available and each program includes an internship working with, writing with, advocating for, researching with and providing revolutionary media access for poverty, race, disability, youth and migrant scholars locally and globally.

The learning from this innovative program begins with this application. There are no right or wrong answers only the beginning of the process to challenge your ideas about your own class and or / race privilege. If you are a person who has neither race or class privilege

(If you are a person who has neither race or class privilege and are in fact a person currently struggling with poverty, disability, or homelessness please review the application for the Poverty Scholars Program)

Name:	Age:	Phone Number:
Address:
Email:
Are you currently employed?	If yes, where?
If no, where did you previously work and why did you leave?
What did you like most about your last job?
What did you dislike the most?
Are you a student?	If yes, where?
What is the highest level of schooling you have completed?	College Attended/Major
What is your work experience?
Other Projects/Interests (art, community, political, etc.):
What is your school/work schedule?
What are your computer skills?
When are you available?
Do you have a driver's license?	Do you have a car?
If yes, can you pick people up?

Do you have any health issues? If yes, what are they?
What is your personal experience with poverty?
What is your future goals?
What does the word activism mean to you?
Have you been involved in any activism? If yes, in what organization(s)?
What did they do?
What were your duties there?	How long were you involved with the organization?
Do all homeless people deserve spare change when they ask for it? Explain.
Have you ever dealt with Child Protective Services or the Juvenile Justice System? If so, explain
Do you have children?	Who are your closest family member?
Do you live with your parents? Why or why not?
When and why did you go out on your own?
Describe your mother.
What is your relationship like with her?
What is (or was) your relationship like with your grandparents?

What is your fondest memory of a time with your grandparents?
What do you think should happen to grandparents when they get old and need help?
Should they go to nursing homes?
How do you feel about families working in the same business?
Do you think there is a difference in the way children in white culture vs. children in other races get along with their families?
If you are a custodial parent, do you have proof to show that you were awarded custody?
Have you ever been in the foster care system?
How do you define respect?
To whom should it apply? (Parents, kids, animals, politicians, etc.)
What is your opinion on drugs and drug laws that affect teens?
How would you describe your personality?
Are you friendly?	Are you an angry person?
Are you serious?	Are you carefree?
Do you have any personality problems? If yes, how would you describe them?
What obstacles have you dealt with in your life?
Have you ever been poor and unable to change that condition? Please explain

Sliding Scale/Payment Plan Application

POOR is in fact poor. We provide full scholarships to folks struggling with poverty in an effort to get their voices heard, which is a revolutionary form of resistance. So we ask you to please be honest about the resources you have and in what ways you can provide support-financial, etc to POOR Magazine. All acts of giving back and supporting each other in this struggle will help make this a more racially and economically just world.

How do you support yourself and/or your family? (Please check all that apply and describe)

	part-time employment full-time employment
	student loans
	financial aid parents trust fund
Please explain in more detail
Do you think you should qualify for a sliding scale or reduced tuition?		Do you need a payment plan?
If you are asking for a reduced monetary tuition what can you give back to POOR?
If you cannot provide a monetary give back we ask that you give back in other ways with your time, for example community meals, outreach, clean-up, etc.) In what ways can you provide non-financial support to POOR?
Signature		Date